The investment report for FY13 (the “Investment Report”) is supplemented by a “Review of Investment Performance” to provide the Members with a comprehensive and detailed report of the Authority’s investment portfolio, investment strategy and earnings performance for the fiscal year and a market commentary.

Accordingly, attached please see the Investment Report and Guidelines. After the Members approve the Investment Report and Guidelines, it will be submitted and/or posted to:

The reports in Appendices B and C include an outline of market conditions and the investment strategy employed in the fiscal quarter of fiscal year 2014, as well as, an update on the portfolio’s performance.

At the close of fiscal year 2012, the Investment Report and Guidelines was revised and enhanced to formalize the Authority's requirements for MBE/WBE participation (See Guidelines, new Section 1.8 "Diversity – MBE/WBE Participation") and Board oversight of the Authority's investment portfolio (See Guidelines, new Section 1.9 "Oversight – Investment Committee"). In addition, modifications to Section 2.3 "Portfolio Diversification" addressed the investments allowed in Municipal Bonds. In May 2013, the Board approved a new Investment Committee Charter, as is reflected in the Investment Report and Guidelines.

The Authority shall also consider the firm's capitalization, quality, size and reliability, the Authority's prior experience with the firm, the firm's level of expertise and prior experience with respect to the contemplated engagement.

4.3. Qualifications for Custodial Banks

To be eligible to hold Investment Securities purchased by the Authority or collateral securing its investments, a custodial bank shall be a member of the Federal Reserve Bank or maintain accounts with member banks to accomplish book-entry transfer of Investment Securities to the credit of the Authority. The custodian should not be the same party that is selling the Investment Securities. To be eligible to perform custodial services, the Chief Financial Officer must affirmatively find that the proposed custodial bank is financially sound. This shall be determined by review of the financial statements and credit ratings of the proposed custodial bank.

4.4. Ongoing Disclosure

All brokers, dealers and other financial institutions described in sections 4.1, 4.2, and 4.3 shall be provided with current copies of the Authority's Investment Guidelines. A current audited financial statement is required to be on file for each financial institution and broker/dealer with which the Authority has investment transactions.

4.5. Affirmative Action

Article 15-A of the Executive Law and 9 NYCRR Part 4.21 regarding affirmative action shall apply with respect to the Authority's investment activities. The Authority shall seek to utilize minority and women-owned financial firms in the conduct of the Authority's investment activities.

Management reporting is required by the Authority in order to track compliance with policy guidelines, assess the performance of the portfolio and to inform appropriate management personnel.

5. REPORTING

5.1. Management Reporting

In order to manage the Investment Funds effectively and to provide Authority management with useful information, it is necessary for the Treasury Department to report reliable and timely information regarding the investment transactions that take place.

A Quarterly Management Report on the investment management program shall be prepared and presented to the CFO and the Authority's Board of Trustees. The Quarterly Management Report shall include:

- An indication of all new investments;
- A portfolio inventory;
- Credit quality of each holding;
- Duration (or average maturity) of each fund;
- Mark-to-market valuations on investments and collateral; and
- A breakdown of the portfolio by counterparty.

An Annual Investment Report shall be submitted to the Board of Trustees and filed with the State Division of the Budget, State Comptroller, State Senate Finance Committee, and Assembly Ways and Means Committee. The Annual Investment Report shall include the following:

- The investment guidelines in compliance with Section 2925(3) of the Public Authorities Law and any amendments since last reported;
- An explanation of the investment guidelines and amendments;
- The results of the Annual Independent Audit (described in Section 3.3.);
- Investment income record of the Authority; and
- A list of the total fees, commissions or other charges paid to each investment banker, broker, agent, dealer and manager/advisor rendering investment associated services to the Authority since the date of the last investment report.

The attached report is being presented to you in accordance with this requirement. After approval of the report, it will be submitted or posted to:

- State Division of the Budget,
- State Department of Audit and Control,
- State Comptroller,
- State Public Authorities Information Reporting System (PARIS)
- Authority website
- The Chairmen and Ranking Minority Members of the Senate Finance Committee and Assembly Ways and Means Committee

5.2. Performance Reporting

In order to ensure the effectiveness of the Authority's investment strategy, it is important to measure the performance of the portfolio. The performance measurement process can be broken into four categories:

- Investment benchmark – The Authority will continuously measure its performance against a benchmark having an average maturity comparable to the portfolios.
- Performance measurement – Each quarter the Authority must measure the performance of its investment portfolio versus its benchmark. By continuously measuring results against this standard benchmark, the Authority can determine a pattern of over/under performance.
- Identify sources of over/under performance – The Performance Reports distributed to the CFO must include information on the source of over/under performance.
- Disseminate results – Results shall be distributed to the CFO and the Board in a timely manner.

APPENDIX A – OPERATING CONTROLS

Distribution of the Investment Guidelines

The guidelines and all subsequent amendments, revisions and updates shall be distributed to Authority personnel per the approval of the Chief Financial Officer.

During the period in which the Authority retains an investment manager, the investment manager must also receive the investment guidelines and all amendments, updates, or revisions to insure compliance with the most current guidelines.

Segregation of Duties

The Authority requires adequate segregation of duties to prevent possible fraud, operational errors, misappropriation of funds, unauthorized trades, concealment of trades and manipulation of accounting records. Personnel involved in risk monitoring activities should be segregated from risk taking (i.e. executing transactions).

Operating Procedures

Operating procedures for the administration of the Authority’s investment program should include the following:

- Each disbursement of funds (and corresponding receipt of Investment Securities) or delivery of Investment Securities (and corresponding receipt of funds) shall be based upon proper written authorization. If the authorization is initially given orally, there shall be written or telegraphic confirmation from an authorized signatory of the Authority to the custodian;
- The process of initiating, reviewing and approving requests to buy and sell Investment Securities shall be documented and retained for audit purposes. Dealer limits should be established and reviewed regularly;
- Custodians must have prior authorization from the Authority to deliver obligations and collateral. All transactions must be confirmed in writing to the Authority. Delivery of obligations sold shall only be made upon receipt of funds;
- Custodial banks shall be required to report whenever activity has occurred in the Authority’s custodial account;
- There shall be at least monthly verification of both the principal amount and the market values of all investments and collateral. Appropriate listings shall be obtained from the custodian and compared against the Authority’s records;
- A record of investments shall be maintained. The records shall identify the Investment Security, the fund for which held, the place where kept, date of disposition and amount realized, and the market value and custodian of collateral;
- The establishment and maintenance of a system of internal controls;
- Methods for adding, changing or deleting information contained in the investment record, including a description of the documents to be created and verification tests to be conducted;
- A data base of records incorporating descriptions and amounts of investments, transaction dates, interest rates, maturities, bond ratings, market prices, and related information necessary to manage the portfolio;

- Requirements for periodic reporting and a satisfactory level of accountability.

These procedures below describe in more detail the methods employed by the investment officers (Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer) to formulate and initiate investment transactions and include the records and documentation used in processing an investment from the time of its initiation to the recording and reconciliation on the Authority's accounting records.

1. The Treasurer or Assistant Treasurer maintains a schedule of all current investments and updates schedule on a timely (daily) basis as securities mature and/or new investments are initiated. A Calendar of investment maturities is maintained and updated as chronological reminder (tickler file) or maturities.
2. All investments are initiated via:
 - a. specific written investment instruction sent to the Trustee or
 - b. verbal investment instructions followed up by written confirmation
3. The Treasurer will initiate the investments by reviewing the investment schedule and calendar on a daily basis to determine investments to be made over the following week based on Investment Committee strategies agreed to by the Investment Committee and weekly phone meetings working group. All investments are available online real time (next day) basis.

The Treasurer considers many factors in forming investment decisions, such as:

- a. existing bond resolution requirements and conditions
 - b. other existing agreements affecting investments/cash flow (i.e. Settlement Agreement; Agreement and Consent dated September 22, 1988, Agreement for Certain Payments, Lease Agreements etc.)
 - c. HLC BPCA Cash Flow Requirements and Internal Investment Policies
 - d. current and future market conditions (i.e. interest rates)
 - e. New York State Comptroller's Guidelines (attached) and
 - f. published market surveys, consultant reports, etc., relating to securities available, interest rates and investment strategies.
4. Copies of the bank confirmation letters sent to the Trustee Bank are filed in the Treasurer's chronological file and in a monthly folder for that particular Bank account.
 5. All investments are available to the President and others for review and discussed at Investment Committee Meetings. A copy of the Investment Instructions Memo is retained in the Treasurer's file and a copy is maintained in the bank reconciliation files.

Documentation for securities purchased including the information as to brokers solicited for quotes shall be retained and filed by the Authority, the Trustee, or Investment Advisor. Corporate funds which are not invested are collateralized or insured by FDIC and balances receive compensating interest at the 90 day T bill rate to mitigate banking fees. Reconciliation of monthly Trustee statements are performed. This includes reconciliation of investment transactions, investment income, and portfolio holdings. Corresponding journal entries are subsequently posted to the Authority's general ledger. The Controller or Senior Accounting Manager initials and dates these reconciliations when reviewed to signify timely approval and completion.

6. Quarterly investment schedules are reviewed by the Investment Committee and made available to the Board. Investment schedules are audited by the Authority's public accountants at year end. The auditors request and receive confirmation of our cash and security holdings as of fiscal year end. In addition, the Authority's external internal auditors periodically audit investments, under the supervision of the Internal Controls Officer.

The procedures will be subjected to regular audits by internal and external auditors as required. Procedures are to be revised and updated on an annual basis and referenced in the Investment Policy and Procedure Statement, approved by the Members, in accordance with Section 2925(6) of the Public Authorities Law.

(a) Portfolio weighted average effective duration

As of October 31, 2013 and 2012, restricted assets included cash and cash equivalents and investments with less than 91-day maturities amounting to $218,104,364 and $121,117,265, respectively.

The Authority's investment objectives for the portfolio are to generate a rate of return in excess of selected benchmarks, provide diversification to the total portfolio, and provide an appropriate level of liquidity for the Authority's operations.

The Authority's permitted investments include: (i) 100% U.S. government guaranteed securities (U.S. Treasury notes, bonds, strips, T-bills, Ginnie Mae securities); (ii) notes, bonds, debentures, and mortgages of U.S. government-sponsored agencies provided that its obligations receive the highest credit rating; (iii) obligations of any corporation organized under the laws of any state in the United States maturing within 270 days provided that such obligations receive the highest rating of two independent rating services (commercial paper), which as of October 31, 2012 were A1/P1; and (iv) municipal bonds issued by New York authorities, provided that they currently receive the highest rating by at least one rating agency (AAA/AAA long-term or VMIG1/A1+ short-term).

Interest rate risk is the probability of loss on investments from future changes in interest rates, which can adversely affect their fair value. Duration is a measure of a debt investment's exposure to fair value changes arising from changes in interest rates. It uses the present value of cash flows, weighted for those cash flows as a percentage of the investment's full price. Effective duration takes into account the change in cash flow expectations of securities with embedded options such as callable bonds and mortgage-backed securities. The interest rate risk of the Authority's portfolio is measured according to effective duration.

Investments of amounts in funds and accounts established under the various 2003, 2009 and 2013 Revenue Bond Resolutions are presently restricted to obligations of the State, U.S. government and its agencies, or in any other obligations in which the Comptroller of the State of New York is authorized to invest pursuant to Section 98 of the State Finance Law.

Corporate-designated, escrowed and OPEB funds represent funds designated by the Authority's board of directors for specific purposes such as budget reserves, the Special Fund, Project contingency reserves, restoration reserves, insurance reserves, and arbitrage reserves and funds designated for the payment of medical benefits to the Authority's retirees.

Residential lease required funds represent funds held by the Authority in accordance with its residential leases. These funds are largely comprised of security and escrow deposits held by the Authority for the residential buildings.

Fees

There were no fees, commissions or other charges paid to investment bankers, brokers, agents, or dealers for rendering investment related services to the Authority during the fiscal year and all investments are competitively bid. Consultant fees in the amounts of approximately $336,000 payable to PFM Asset Management LLC ("PFM") were incurred the current year for professional money management advice to the Authority's Investment Committee.

Investment Income Record

Attached is the "Review of Investment Performance Quarter Ended October 31, 2013 Report", which includes a portfolio of all investments held by the Authority at 10/31/13 and includes details of investment earnings.

APPENDIX C- FISCAL YEAR ENDED OCTOBER 31, 2013 YEAR IN REVIEW

BPCA FY2013 A Year in Review

Summary of Bond Market and Authority Portfolio Strategy

First Quarter: November 1, 2012 – January 31, 2013

Market Summary

The “fiscal cliff” ruled the air waves during late 2012 as Capitol Hill wrangled with compromise and negotiations up until the eleventh hour. Amidst the concerns created by this uncertainty, yields across the curve were relatively unchanged; however, longer-term interest rates spiked higher through January 2013 as market optimism jumped, largely due to stopgap fiscal cliff negotiations. During this period, the Federal Reserve announced that it would maintain short-term rates at extremely low levels until the unemployment rate falls below 6.5% and prospects firmed for long-term inflation to stay below 2.5%.

Growth in the U.S. remained modest and, during the quarter, the U.S. housing market showed signs of improvement as new-home sales in the U.S. rose to their highest level in four-and-a-half years, jumping 28.9% from the year prior. The unemployment picture remained positive, but unexciting, as the unemployment rate stayed steady at 7.9%. Inflation data fell shy of the Federal Reserve’s targeted range of 2% to 2.5% as the Consumer Price Index rose 1.6% year over year.

Portfolio Strategy Recap

- The beginning of the Authority’s fiscal year brought opportunity to match maturities to future cash flow dates, capturing higher yields available in slightly longer maturities.
- For the Authority’s Longer-Term Strategy, PFM shifted duration stance to a defensive bias and durations were allowed to drift short of their benchmark as all eyes turned to expected volatility and potential for yield increases as fiscal cliff talk dominated through December.
- Portfolio allocations to Federal Agency and municipal securities benefited the portfolios and helped buoy performance as spreads to Treasuries generally tightened over the period.

Second Quarter: February 1, 2013 – April 30, 2013

Market Summary

During the quarter, the domestic economy continued to experience moderate growth, but some economists believed that the federal budget cuts, known as sequestration, might lead to slower growth for the second half of the year.

Economic indicators for the quarter generally trended positively, as U.S. GDP grew by 2.4% during the quarter, versus a lackluster 0.4% for the previous quarter. Housing starts and consumer spending both increased at 2.4% and 0.7%, respectively. Meanwhile, euro-zone economies struggled and the U.S. dollar strengthened as economic growth across the pond fought to gain traction.

For the period, municipal bonds performed well after incurring losses late in 2012 due to concerns that their tax-exempt status might be curtailed. Supply scarcity and historically tight spreads resulted in Agency sector underperformance across the majority of maturity ranges when compared with similar-duration Treasuries. Mortgage Backed Securities (MBS) recovered somewhat after their late 2012 underperformance, bolstered by the upturn in housing values and expectations that the Federal Reserve’s bond purchase program would continue for the foreseeable future.

Portfolio Strategy Recap

- Short-term rates and total returns remained low as the Federal Reserve maintained its zero interest rate policy. As a result, the Authority's Short-Term Strategy generated returns in line with the benchmark, as value in this space became a thing of scarcity.
- PFM continued to work with the Investment Committee and staff to identify opportunities to minimize excess liquidity and take advantage of a positive yield curve and other opportunities to enhance returns in the Short-Term strategy.
- In the Authority's Longer-Term Investment Strategy, conservative duration posture was maintained; however, this position led initially to underperformance but was subsequently rewarded as rates rose steadily following quarter end.
- U.S. Treasuries were the strongest performing permitted sector during the quarter.

Third Quarter: May 1, 2013 – July 31, 2013

Market Summary

After hitting 2013 lows during the quarter, interest rates skyrocketed on stronger economic prospects and the Federal Reserve's impending plan to reduce bond purchases (tapering). As a result, interest rates rose significantly through May and June, with elements of panic; in July, yields began to appear to settle into a new, higher and more volatile trading range.

The U.S. housing market continued to strengthen, and the unemployment rate dropped modestly to 7.4% from 7.5%. Consumer confidence neared a six year high in June, the result of an improving labor market and the wealth effect of rising home prices and a strengthening stock market. The domestic economy overall continued to show signs of improvement, but the potential for a cessation of the Federal Reserve's quantitative easing programs increased volatility in the markets.

Portfolio Strategy Recap

- The Authority's shorter-term portfolios continued to take advantage of the incremental yield benefit available in high-quality commercial paper relative to similar maturity U.S. government securities.
- Diversification dragged returns lower for the Authority's Long-Term portfolios. Contrary to historical relationships, as rates rose, yield spreads widened. The higher yields and diversification benefits of investing away from Treasuries were temporarily overwhelmed by yield spread widening, which caused a majority of high quality holdings to underperform Treasuries.
- Rising rates provide opportunities for higher returns over the long run. Though rising rates detracted from returns, adding longer-dated Treasuries at attractive levels offered opportunities for potential higher future returns.
- Along with rising rates and modest maturity extensions at attractive yield levels, portfolio durations were brought closer in line with benchmark durations, a change from previous periods of more conservative postures.

Fourth Quarter: August 1, 2013 – October 31, 2013

Market Summary

Markets were whipsawed during the quarter ended October 31, 2013, as rates marched steadily higher through August and into September, only to reverse course on (1) weaker-than-expected economic data, (2) the Federal Reserve's decision to not taper bond purchases, and (3) Larry Summers' withdrawal from consideration to become the Federal Reserve Chairman. Partisan wrangling over the federal budget, looming debt ceiling, and impact of the government shutdown created a great deal of uncertainty in the markets.

The U.S. economy grew at a modest 2.5% for the second quarter of 2013 and the release of the Federal Reserve's September economic projections confirmed that growth was unlikely to pick up in the next few quarters, as its GDP growth forecast was revised slightly downward for 2013, 2014, and 2015. The unemployment rate continued to fall from 7.4% in July to 7.2% in September. Despite the continued decline in the flagship rate, the majority of the decline is attributed to a declining labor participation rate as opposed to extraordinary job production.

Portfolio Strategy Recap

- Short-Term investment strategy during the quarter was driven by (1) the Authority's fiscal year-end, (2) issuance of its 2013 Bonds, and (3) the investment of additional Project Funds totaling approximately $91 million.
- The Authority's Longer-Term investment strategy for the quarter was driven by the volatile interest rates brought about by the Federal Reserve not reducing asset purchases, as originally expected.
- With the volatility in the markets, PFM returned to a defensive duration posture in order to help protect portfolio market value in a more volatile interest rate environment.

Portfolio Performance Update

FY 2013 total returns for the Authority's Long-Term Investment Strategy were in line with its benchmark. Despite negative returns for the year, the Longer-Term strategy has generated strong total returns over the three-year period and outperformed the benchmarks across all Long-Term portfolios.

During the past 12 months, the Federal Reserve maintained a steadfast resolve to target overnight interest rates at zero to 0.25% for the foreseeable future. Despite the significant headwinds for ultra short-term investors, the Authority's Short-Term Investment Strategy produced competitive total returns during this period and in line with the benchmark.

By adhering to an appropriately conservative investment approach, the Investment Committee was able to produce solid performance without sacrificing its commitment to safety, liquidity, and long-term portfolio objectives. The majority of the Authority's Short-Term and Long-Term portfolios - measured on a total return basis - have outperformed their benchmarks over the past 3-year and since inception periods.
