“Board” means the Members of the Battery Park City Authority Board.

“Investment Funds” means monies and financial resources available for investment by the Authority.

“Investment Securities” means any or all of the investment obligations.

“Rating Agencies” means Standard & Poor’s Corporation, Moody’s Investor Service, and Fitch Ratings.

“State” means the State of New York.

1.2. Purpose and Scope

The purpose of these guidelines (“Guidelines” or “Investment Guidelines”) is to establish the parameters, responsibilities, and controls for the investment and the management of Investment Funds. These Guidelines have been adopted by, and can be changed only by, the Board.

These Guidelines shall govern the investment and reinvestment of Investment Funds and the sale and liquidation of Investment Securities, as well as the monitoring, maintenance, accounting, reporting, and internal controls by and of the Authority with respect to such investment and reinvestment of Investment Funds and sale and liquidation of Investment Securities.

The guidance set forth herein is to be strictly followed by all those responsible for any aspect of the management or administration of these funds.

1.3 Compliance

Section 2925 (6) of the State Public Authorities Law requires the Authority to annually prepare and approve an investment report which describes the Authority’s Investment Guidelines and any amendments to the Guidelines, investment policies and procedures, the results of the annual independent audit, the Authority’s investment income and a list of the fees associated with those investments, as well as commissions or other charges paid to each investment banker, broker, agent, dealer and advisor (SEE - APPENDIX B – INVESTMENT REPORT FYE OCTOBER 31, 2017).

1.4. Roles and Responsibilities

It shall be the responsibility of the Chief Financial Officer to ensure that all investments and investment practices meet or exceed all statutes and guidelines governing the investment of public funds in New York and the guidelines established by the State Comptroller’s Office and the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB). The Assistant Treasurer, acting on behalf of the Board as custodian of the Investment Policy, is responsible for ensuring that all aspects of the investment management program are executed in a manner consistent with the Guidelines. A description of operating controls is attached as Appendix A to these Guidelines.

An investment committee (“Investment Committee”) will be appointed by the Board to develop and execute investment strategy for the Authority’s Investment Funds. In the event that the Board is not fully constituted, the entire Board may meet in lieu of the Investment Committee. The Investment Committee may consult with a qualified investment advisor/manager in the course of fulfilling its responsibilities.

The Authority’s external auditor will conduct an annual audit of the investment management activity to ensure compliance with the Investment Guidelines by Treasury and the external investment manager, if any. The findings of the audit shall be formally documented and submitted annually to the Chief Financial Officer and the Board.

1.5. Standard of Prudence

The standard of prudence to be applied to the investment of the Authority’s Investment Funds shall be the “Prudent Person Rule” that states:

“Investments shall be made with judgment and care, under circumstances then prevailing which persons of prudence, discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not for speculation, but for investment, considering the probable safety of their capital as well as the probable income to be derived.”

Authorized Authority officials and employees involved in the investment process acting in accordance with the laws of the State, these Guidelines and any other written procedures pertaining to the administration and management of the Investment Funds and who exercise the proper due diligence shall be relieved of personal responsibility for an individual security’s credit risk or market price changes, provided that any negative deviations are reported in a timely fashion to the Chief Financial Officer or another authorized official and that reasonable and prudent action is taken to control and prevent any further adverse developments.

1.6. Conflict of Interest

Authority Officers and employees involved in the investment process (“Investment Officials”) shall refrain from personal business activity that could conflict with the proper execution and management of the investment program, or that could impair their ability to make impartial decisions. Investment Officials shall not:

1. accept any money, loan, gift, favor, service, or business or professional opportunity that could influence them in the performance of their official duties;
2. accept any business or professional opportunity when they know there is a reasonable likelihood that the opportunity is being afforded to influence them in the performance of their official duties;

4. disclose or use confidential information that is not generally available to the public for their own or another person’s financial benefit.

1.7. Review, Amendments, Updates and Revisions

The Assistant Treasurer and the Chief Financial Officer will review the Guidelines on an annual basis, or as required, to ensure continued effectiveness of the Investment Guidelines. The Guidelines shall be submitted to the Board annually for review and approval. Modifications to the Investment Guidelines may be required as business needs and requirements change. Any amendments must be reviewed and approved by the Chief Financial Officer and submitted to the Board for final approval. Subsequent to any modifications to the Investment Guidelines, revised Guidelines must be distributed to Authority personnel on the approved distribution list as well as any external investment advisor/manager and financial institutions.

1.8 Diversity – MBE/WBE Participation

It is the Authority's standard practice to reach out to MBE/WBE brokers/dealers to provide them opportunities to trade for Investment Securities. The Authority required that thirty percentage (30%) of annual costs under the 2015 service agreement for investment advisory services be allocated to a certified MBE/WBE firm.

1.9 Oversight – Investment Committee

Maintenance of adequate liquidity to meet the cash flow needs of the Authority is essential. Accordingly, the portfolio will be structured in a manner that ensures sufficient cash is available to meet anticipated liquidity needs. Selection of investment maturities must be consistent with the cash requirements of the Authority in order to avoid the forced sale of securities prior to maturity.

3. OPERATING PARAMETERS & CONTROLS

A written confirmation shall be required for each investment transaction. However, the Authority shall not be required to enter into a formal written contract provided that the Authority’s oral instructions to its broker, dealer, agent, investment manager/advisor, or custodian with respect to such transactions are confirmed in writing at the earliest practicable moment.

3.5. Safekeeping and Custody

All investment securities purchased by the Authority or held as collateral on deposits or investments shall be held by a third-party custodian who may not otherwise be a counterparty to the investment transaction.

All securities shall be held in the name of the Authority and will be free and clear of any lien.

Payment for investments shall be made only upon receipt by the custodian of the physical security, or in the case of securities in book-entry form, when credited for the custodian’s account, which shall be segregated for the Authority’s sole use. The custodian shall issue a safekeeping receipt to the Authority listing the specific instrument, rate, maturity and other pertinent information. On a monthly basis, the custodian will also provide reports that list all securities held for the Authority, the book value of holdings and the market value as of month-end.

The custodian may act on oral instructions from the CFO, Assistant Treasurer or investment advisor under the direction of the CFO. Such instructions are to be confirmed in writing immediately by an authorized signatory of the Authority.

Representatives of the custodian responsible for, or in any manner involved with, the safekeeping and custody process of the Authority shall be bonded in such a fashion as to protect the Authority from losses from malfeasance and misfeasance. If required by the Chief Financial Officer, appropriate Authority Officials may also be bonded in such a fashion.

5.2. Performance Reporting

In order to ensure the effectiveness of the Authority's investment strategy, it is important to measure the performance of the portfolio. The performance measurement process can be broken into four categories:

- Investment benchmark – The Authority will continuously measure its performance against a benchmark having an average maturity comparable to the portfolios.
- Performance measurement – Each quarter the Authority must measure the performance of its investment portfolio versus its benchmark. By continuously measuring results against this standard benchmark, the Authority can determine a pattern of over/under performance.
- Identify sources of over/under performance – The Performance Reports distributed to the CFO must include information on the source of over/under performance.
- Disseminate results – Results shall be distributed to the CFO and the Board in a timely manner.

Segregation of Duties

The Authority requires adequate segregation of duties to prevent possible fraud, operational errors, misappropriation of funds, unauthorized trades, concealment of trades and manipulation of accounting records. Personnel involved in risk monitoring activities should be segregated from risk taking (i.e. executing transactions).

Exhibit – Segregation of Duties Matrix

Activity to be Performed	Segregation Level
Trade Execution	Individuals who are authorized to execute transactions should not confirm and settle the trades or conduct account reconciliation activities.
Trade Confirmation	Individuals who conduct confirmations should not execute transactions.
Settlement – Disbursing and Receiving Funds	Individuals who handle cash settlement on the trades should not execute the trades. Cash settlement shall be transacted by any one of the authorized Authority signatories who did not participate in the trade execution. Only one signature is required due to the nature of the transaction, i.e., transfer of assets (including transfers in excess of $25,000).
Account Reconciliation	Account reconciliation activities must be segregated from trade execution activities.

Operating Procedures

Operating procedures for the administration of the Authority’s investment program should include the following:

- Each disbursement of funds (and corresponding receipt of Investment Securities) or delivery of Investment Securities (and corresponding receipt of funds) shall be based upon proper written authorization. If the authorization is initially given orally, there shall be written or telegraphic confirmation from an authorized signatory of the Authority to the custodian;
- The process of initiating, reviewing and approving requests to buy and sell Investment Securities shall be documented and retained for audit purposes. Dealer limits should be established and reviewed regularly;
- Custodians must have prior authorization from the Authority to deliver obligations and collateral. All transactions must be confirmed in writing to the Authority. Delivery of obligations sold shall only be made upon receipt of funds;
- Custodial banks shall be required to report whenever activity has occurred in the Authority’s custodial account;
- There shall be at least monthly verification of both the principal amount and the market values of all investments and collateral. Appropriate listings shall be obtained from the custodian and compared against the Authority’s records;
- A record of investments shall be maintained. The records shall identify the Investment Security, the fund for which held, the place where kept, date of disposition and amount realized, and the market value and custodian of collateral;
- The establishment and maintenance of a system of internal controls;
- Methods for adding, changing or deleting information contained in the investment record, including a description of the documents to be created and verification tests to be conducted;
- A database of records incorporating descriptions and amounts of investments, transaction dates, interest rates, maturities, bond ratings, market prices, and related information necessary to manage the portfolio; and
- Requirements for periodic reporting and a satisfactory level of accountability.

The procedures below describe in more detail the methods employed by the investment officers (Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer) to formulate and initiate investment transactions and include the records and documentation used in processing an investment from the time of its initiation to the recording and reconciliation on the Authority's accounting records.

1. The Treasurer or Assistant Treasurer maintains a schedule of all current investments and updates schedule on a timely (daily) basis as securities mature and/or new investments are initiated. A Calendar of investment maturities is maintained and updated as chronological reminder (tickler file) or maturities.
2. All investments are initiated via:
  - a. specific written investment instruction sent to the Trustee or
  - b. verbal investment instructions followed up by written confirmation
3. The Treasurer or Investment Advisor will initiate the investments by reviewing the investment schedule and calendar on a daily basis to determine investments to be made over the following week based on Investment Committee strategies agreed to by the Investment Committee and weekly phone meetings working group. All investments are available online on a real time (next day) basis.

The Treasurer considers many factors in forming investment decisions, such as:

- a. existing bond resolution requirements and conditions;
  - b. other existing agreements affecting investments/cash flow (i.e. Settlement Agreement; Agreement and Consent dated September 22, 1988, as amended, Agreement for Certain Payments, Lease Agreements etc.);
  - c. BPCA Cash Flow Requirements and Internal Investment Policies;
  - d. current and future market conditions (i.e. interest rates);
  - e. New York State Comptroller's Guidelines; and
  - f. published market surveys, consultant reports, etc., relating to securities available, interest rates and investment strategies.
4. Copies of the bank trade confirmation letters sent to the Trustee Bank are filed in the Treasurer's chronological file and in a monthly folder for that particular Bank account.
  5. All investments are available to the President and others for review and discussed at Investment Committee meetings. A copy of the Investment Instructions Letter is retained in the Treasurer's file and a copy is maintained in the bank reconciliation files.

Documentation for securities purchased including the information as to brokers solicited for quotes shall be retained and filed by the Authority, the Trustee, or Investment Advisor. Corporate funds which are not invested are collateralized or insured by FDIC and balances receive compensating interest at the 90 day T-bill rate to mitigate banking fees. Reconciliation of monthly Trustee statements are performed. This includes reconciliation of investment transactions, investment income, and portfolio holdings. Corresponding journal entries are subsequently posted to the Authority's general ledger. The BPCA Controller or Director of Financial Reporting initials and dates these reconciliations when reviewed to signify timely approval and completion.

6. Quarterly investment schedules are reviewed by the Investment Committee and made available to the Board. Investment schedules are audited by the Authority's public accountants at year end. The auditors request and receive confirmation of our cash and security holdings as of fiscal year end. In addition, the Authority's Internal Audit department periodically audits investments.

The procedures will be subjected to regular audits by internal and external auditors as required. Procedures are to be revised and updated on an annual basis and referenced in the Investment Policy and Procedure Statement, approved by the Members, in accordance with Section 2925(6) of the Public Authorities Law.

(a) Portfolio weighted average effective duration

As of October 31, 2017 and 2016, restricted assets included cash and cash equivalents and investments with less than 91-day maturities amounting to $166,595,352 and $171,107,596, respectively.

The Authority's investment objectives for the portfolio are legal compliance, safety of principal, to meet liquidity requirements and to maximize legally allowable return.

Interest rate risk is the probability of loss on investments from future changes in interest rates, which can adversely affect their fair value. Duration is a measure of a debt investment's exposure to fair value changes arising from changes in interest rates. It uses the present value of cash flows, weighted for those cash flows as a percentage of the investment's full price. Effective duration takes into account the change in cash flow expectations of securities with embedded options such as callable bonds and mortgage-backed securities. The interest rate risk of the Authority's portfolio is measured according to effective duration.

Investments of amounts in funds and accounts established under the various 2003 General Bond Resolution, and the 2009 and 2013 Revenue Bond Resolutions are presently restricted to obligations of the State, U.S. government and its agencies, or in any other obligations in which the Comptroller of the State of New York is authorized to invest pursuant to Section 98 of the State Finance Law.

Corporate-designated and escrowed funds represent funds designated by the Authority's board of directors for specific purposes such as budget reserves, the Special Fund (see note 12), project contingency reserves, restoration reserves, insurance reserves, and arbitrage reserves and funds designated for the payment of medical benefits to the Authority's retirees (OPEB funds).

Residential lease required funds represent funds held by the Authority in accordance with its residential leases. These funds are largely comprised of security and escrow deposits held by the Authority for the residential buildings.

Fees

There were no fees, commissions or other charges paid to investment bankers, brokers, agents, or dealers for rendering investment related services to the Authority during the fiscal year and all investments are competitively bid. Consultant fees in the amount of approximately $350,000 were paid to PFM Asset Management LLC during the current fiscal year for professional money management advice to the Authority's Investment Committee.

APPENDIX C – BPCA FY2017 A Year in Review

BPCA FY2017 A Year in Review

(Prepared by PFM Asset Management LLC)

Summary of Bond Market and Authority Portfolio Strategy

Annual Summary

Fiscal year 2017 proved eventful in both the equity and fixed income markets with the S&P 500 index returning over 21% during the fiscal year and the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) electing to raise interest rates three times, each by 0.25%. The U.S. economy continued its positive momentum throughout the year which was reflected in the positivity of most leading economic indicators. The U.S. economy experienced two quarters of GDP growth above 3% and the unemployment rate fell to post recession lows. On a global spectrum, developed economies experienced what has been coined “synchronized global growth” in which all economies in the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) expanded. All of these factors coupled with accommodative monetary policies and low inflation provided a steady backdrop for the markets throughout the year.

Summary of Bond Market and Authority Portfolio Strategy

First Quarter: November 1, 2016 – January 31, 2017

Market Summary

The markets were dominated by the U.S. presidential election and fiscal policy. Bond yields and equity prices soared at the end of 2016 following the presidential election as then President-elect Donald Trump’s proposed policies boosted inflation expectations and growth forecasts. Major stock indexes closed the quarter at record highs. On December 14th 2016 the FOMC raised the federal funds target rate by 0.25% to a range of 0.50% to 0.75%. The unanimous decision, in line with market expectation, was the first rate hike since December 2015. The FOMC also released updated economic forecasts and a new “dot plot”, forecasting three rate hikes in 2017.

On the economic front, gross domestic product (GDP) grew at a rate of 2.1% to close out 2016, which was a slowdown from the previous quarter’s pace of 3.5%. The U.S. labor market continued to maintain its strength as the unemployment rate fell to 4.6% - a post-recession low. Americans demonstrated greater confidence in the U.S. economy as the Conference Board’s December reading climbed to a 15-year high. Labor market conditions supported this confidence by adding 2.2 million new jobs in 2016 and wage growth rose 2.9% for the year, the fastest pace since 2009.

Overall, interest rates rose during the quarter, continuing the 2016 year-long trend higher: the 2-year Treasury yield closed out January 2017 at 1.19% which was 43 basis points (bps) (0.43%) above January 2016.

Portfolio Strategy Recap

- The 2003 Pledged Revenue Fund experienced significant activity as intra-fund transfers related to the beginning of the Authority’s fiscal year were initiated. Included in this activity were net outflows totaling $85 million for the quarter, reflecting transfers primarily to the Residual Fund. This activity impacted sector and maturity selection.
- Significant allocations to U.S. Treasuries were added due to tighter yield spreads between Federal agencies and comparable-maturity Treasuries.
- All of the Authority’s longer-term portfolios outperformed their respective benchmarks during the quarter. U.S. Treasury yields rose during the quarter with the 2-year climbing 34 bps (0.34%) and the 10-year rising 63 bps (0.63%), reflecting expectations for additional FOMC rate hikes and future Trump administration policies having a positive impact on growth and inflation. The 1-5 year and 1-10 year U.S. Treasury indexes posted negative returns. Although the Authority’s longer-term portfolios also posted negative returns, the portfolios' durations were positioned shorter than the respective benchmarks which was a positive for relative performance as interest rates across the yield curve dramatically increased.

Second Quarter: February 1, 2017 – April 30, 2017

Market Summary

Equity markets continued their positive run throughout the quarter. The “Trump trade” dominated markets for much of the quarter, pushing interest rates and equity prices higher. The Trump Administration and the Republican Party continued to promote an agenda promising new jobs, lower taxes, deregulation, and significant boosts to infrastructure spending.

Fulfilling market expectations, on March 15th the FOMC again raised the federal funds target rate by 0.25% to a range of 0.75% to 1.00%. Central banks in the developed world outside of the United States continued the trend of applying highly accommodative monetary policies as economic growth and inflation remained subdued. As a result, sovereign bond yields were at or near historic lows, with yields throughout Europe and Japan below 0%.

Despite lackluster GDP growth (1.4%), the U.S. labor market added 500,000 new jobs in the first quarter of 2017, the unemployment rate declined to a decade low of 4.5%, and the labor participation rate rose to 63%. Wage growth remained firm during the quarter, increasing at an annual rate of 2.5%. Additionally, inflation remained below the Federal Reserve's 2% target.

Short-term (under five years) Treasury yields ended the quarter higher, reflecting the Federal Reserve's March rate hike, while medium to long-term yields declined amid subdued inflation expectations. The 2-year Treasury yield finished April at 1.28%, 9 bps higher than on January 31.

Portfolio Strategy Recap

- The short-term portfolios were structured to meet the liquidity needs of each respective fund. Liquidity considerations were the primary determinants of portfolio structure and duration as the Authority withdrew $25 million during the quarter for debt service and capital requirements.
- Relative return of the short-term portfolios benefitted from attractive yields in the high quality commercial paper sector, which generated strong outperformance relative to comparable maturity U.S. Treasuries. Yield spreads between the two sectors narrowed over the quarter, but the portfolios were still able to benefit from the relatively higher yields of commercial paper post-money market reform.
- All longer-term portfolios outperformed their respective benchmark for the quarter, benefitting from a short duration bias and allocation to the municipal sector, as the sector posted notable outperformance for the quarter relative to comparable U.S. Treasuries.

Third Quarter: May 1, 2017 – July 31, 2017

Market Summary

After a volatile first half of 2017 and despite mixed economic data, market conditions were characterized by investor optimism. Bond yields were relatively unchanged during the quarter, spreads between government and credit securities narrowed, and equity markets moved higher. For the second time in 2017 on June 15th the FOMC raised the federal funds rate by 0.25% setting a new target range of 1.00% to 1.25% while also maintaining its original forecast of three rate hikes in 2017. Market participants, however, discounted those intentions, pegging a 50% chance of a rate hike for later in 2017.

For the second calendar quarter ended June 30, 2017, the U.S. economy grew at an annual rate of 3.2%, up from the prior quarter's sluggish pace of 1.4%. Business investment accelerated, but was partly offset by weak consumer spending and a slowdown in government spending and inventories. The U.S. labor market remained strong, consumer confidence remained high and the housing market returned to near pre-financial crisis levels. Most notably, the unemployment rate declined to a 16-year low, ending the quarter at 4.4%

Short-term U.S. Treasury yields ended the quarter higher, reflecting the Fed's June rate hike, while medium- to long-term yields declined amid subdued inflation expectations and fading prospects for the near-term stimulus from tax reform or infrastructure spending. The 2-year Treasury rose 6bps (0.06%) finishing July at 1.34%, while the 10-year Treasury fell 3 bps to 2.30%. The result was a notably flatter yield curve.

Portfolio Strategy Recap

- Short-term portfolios outperformed the benchmark, the Bank of America Merrill Lynch (BAML) 3 Month Treasury Bill index for the quarter.
- Yield spreads between commercial paper and comparable maturity U.S. Treasuries narrowed from their exceptionally wide levels of late 2016 and early 2017, reducing the incremental yield benefit between the two sectors. This was partially due to the market normalizing from the initial effects of money market reform.
- Large outflows during the quarter were due to transfers from the 2003 Residual Fund to New York City in June.
- The Authority's longer-term portfolios outperformed their respective benchmarks for the quarter, benefitting from both income return and price appreciation due to falling long-term rates and a flattening yield curve.

Fourth Quarter: August 1, 2017 – October 31, 2017

Market Summary

Although the slow rate of inflation remained a concern for the Federal Reserve, it continued to pursue monetary policy normalization. At its September meeting, the FOMC announced its intent to taper its balance sheet securities holdings to begin in October under the terms of the previously released normalization principles and plans.

The U.S. economy expanded at an annual rate of 3.2% over the quarter, just shy of the expected 3.3%. Synchronized global growth, strong consumer spending, and an uptick in housing activity were a few of the many drivers of positive growth during the quarter. The U.S. economy added less than 100,000 new jobs per month (on average) over the quarter, but the unemployment rate fell to 4.2%, the lowest rate since 2001. Jobless claims spiked following the hurricane disruption, but the uptick was expected to be temporary.

U.S. Treasury yields rose during the quarter on the expectation of further monetary policy tightening in 2017. The 2-year Treasury yield reached its highest level since 2008, closing out October at 1.60%, while the 10-year Treasury yield finished at 2.38%. This continued the trend of modest flattening of the Treasury yield curve since the beginning of the year.

Portfolio Strategy Recap

- The Pledged Revenue portfolio was positioned to facilitate the movement of funds after the end of the fiscal year to other Authority portfolios.
- Liquidity considerations were the primary determinant of the portfolio structure and duration positioning.
- Although spreads continued to narrow, short-term commercial paper still offered incremental value relative to both short and intermediate-term government securities.
- All of the Authority's longer-term portfolios outperformed their respective benchmarks for the quarter. Fiscal year-end cash flow activity necessitated a short-duration approach, but also contributed to relative performance during the quarter as short term rates increased.
- The longer-term portfolios benefitted from allocations to the Government Mortgage-Backed Security (MBS) sector which outperformed the U.S. Treasury sector during the quarter.

Portfolio Performance Update

Total returns for fiscal year ended October 31, 2017 were strong for the Authority's short-term investment strategies, which outperformed its benchmark, the BAML 3-month U.S. Treasury Bill index return by an average of 11 bps. Short-term strategies benefitted throughout the fiscal year from attractive yields in the high quality commercial paper sector. The Authority's longer-term investment strategies all outperformed their respective benchmarks. The 2003 Reserve Fund outperformed its benchmark by 33 bps. All other Long-Term Strategies managed to the BAML 1-10 Year U.S. Treasury Note Index outperformed by an average of nearly 40 bps. Outperformance for the long-term strategies was driven by a short duration position relative to the benchmark, which proved beneficial throughout the fiscal year as interest rates rose.
